MRS. BONES IN WAR PAINT. She Calls Miss Anthony a Trickster and erratic and eccentric but a well-known worker of the Woman's Christian temperance union, woman's suffrage association, was at the Palmer house in Chicago yesterday on her way to the Mrs. Bones has been informed that Miss An-Bones heard of this movement she picked up her duds and started for the battlefield.

"Susan B. Anthony is trying to emulate Frances Willard," Mrs. Bones said. "If I am not mistaken the brainy women of our party will rally around me, and we will show Miss An-thony what we folks from Dakota are made of. thony what we folks from Dakota are made of. Then there are other things against Miss Anthony. She issued an appeal to the people of South Dakota for funds. Every time I think of that I almost forget that I am a lady, and I want to call Susan B. a trickster. There I have said it and that's just what she is. So, now." Mrs. Bones was so afraid she would miss the first train to Washington that she held her first train to Washington that she held her watch in one hand and a time table in the

Mrs. Bones is somewhat famous as the author of the Sioux uprising on the Sisseton reservation in 1882. Two squaws and a half breed walked past her house one day and she thought they wanted to massacre herself and baby, and raised a great commotion that did not stop until President Arthur, the War and Interior departments were considerably aroused. Her husband was formerly a Treasury clerk, and she lived several years in Washington while her father, Judge Kidder, was a delegate in Congress.

"Bert" King of Chicago, who was reported to have swindled Hutchinson, the millionaire broker, out of $40,000, has returned from his sojourn in Canada and made a confession.

GEORGETOWN.

Expecting Money From Germany.—Last night an old man "dressed in soldier's clothes," walked into the police station and told Policeman Cotter that he had no funds. The stranger gave his name as John Von Malenowsky. He told the officer that he expected money from Germany in about ten days, and asked to be sent down or about that length of time. This morning when the case was heard before Judge Miller John was given 20 days with the un-derstanding that he would be released when his money reaches him.

CHARGED WITH SELLING "POLICE."—"It's the new policemen who catch the good cases," remarked an officer yesterday. He was telling of the alleged policy case against J. F. Simmons. Officer Bradley, who made the case, has not been on the force very long and the alleged violators of law don't know him when he is in violators of law don't know him when he is in citizen's clothes. A week ago he was in Simmon's dining room getting something to eat when Marcellus Stallings came in and called for "cat row." The numbers are 16-42-64. Then Officer Bradley threw back his coat, showed his badge and demanded Stallings' name. Yesterday in the Police Court a jury trial was demanded and $100 bonds given. In the case of John Jones, charged with a similar offense, similar action was taken.

A Swearing Couple,—Robert Williams, colored, and his wife Hattie were convicted before Judge Miller this morning of a charge of swearing in a house on 28th street loud enough to be heard on the street. They were fined $5 or 15 days each.

Back to the Workhouse.—William Webster, a colored man who once had a home at the night lodging house, was a lodger and pris-oner at the police station last night. He called for lodging, but Policeman Upperman interfor lodging, but Policeman Upperman inter-rupted his nap and made him a prisoner, va-grancy being the charge against him. Web-sier was taken to the Police Court this morning, where he told his story to Judge Miller. He said that he was just released from the work-house yesterday; that he lives in East Wash-ington, but it was after 9 o'clock when he got ready to go home last night. He hadn't car fare and couldn't walk there. That's why he asked for lodgings. Twenty days more on Modoc" was called in the Police Court this morning and two charges of disorderly were read to him and he said "not guilty" each time,

"I guess I had too much fire water aboard" he added. "I am Captain Jack of the Modocs," said the prisoner when Policemen Hook and Cotter were giving their evidence. The prisoner took the stand in his own behalf and tried to talk the case out of the Court but the Judge imposed a fine of $5 or 15 days. Charged With Buying Stolen Goods.—Geo.

CHARGED WITH BUYING STOLEN GOODS.—Geo.
R. McAuley, the second-hand dealer, was charged in the Police Court yesterday with receiving stolen goods. It is alleged that Amanda Smith, a colored woman, was employed by Mrs.T. F. Taft to wash some clothes and that a skirt was not returned, but instead was disposed of to McAuley for fifteen cents. The case was continued indefinitely The case was continued indefinitely.

Fire Last Night.—Shortly after midnight last night an alarm was sounded from box 721 by Officer Sutherland for fire discovered in a shed in the rear of house 1328 33d street, used by Albert Moore as a carpenter shop. The timely arrival of the engine company pre-vented what might have been a disastrous fire. Loss about $20; origin of fire unknown.

presided and L. E. Uhler was secretary of the presided and L. E. Uhler was secretary of the citizen's meeting held at the board of trade rooms last night to forward the project of a shoe factory. After the committee had reported that $25,000 would be needed for the purpose Mr. G. P. Hill offered to subscribe $5,000 or more if necessary. Justus Schneider was ready to raise $5,000 if a proper practical man could be engaged to carry on the working of the factory. It was determined not to ing of the factory. It was determined not to ask subscriptions until a charter was drafted, and Messrs. G. P. Hill, John M. Johnson, Julian Burke, Harry Smoot and Frederick Paff were appointed a committee to prepare the draft of a charter and submit it to a meeting to be held next week. It seems to be generally understood that Green's factory building will be selected as the site of the new enterprise. Trees vs. Telegraph Poles.—The ordinance which provides for the keeping of King street clear of obstructions is a very plain one. It reads "all awning posts, sign posts, projecting signs and other similar obstructions over and upon the sidewalk of King street shall be taken down and removed and it shall be the duty of down and removed and it shall be the duty of the superintendent of police to cause the same to be taken down and removed." But there are many grants which contradict the ordi-nance. The "proprietors of the Morse electro magnetic telegraph obtained in 1846 the right to put their poles on such streets as the mayor should designate and King street was one of the streets designated. The Washington and New Orleans telegraph companies obtained the same right on King street in 1857. Dr. W. S. Morris & Co. obtained the same privileges in Morris & Co. obtained the same privileges in 1858. The Washington and Alexandria telephone company was given a similar right in 1888, and the Alexandria telegraph company had previously received like authority. Since then the electric light poles have been placed from one end of King street to the other, so that between the ordinances to clear King street and the ordinances to obstruct it houses are and the ordinances to obstruct it honors are about easy. It happens, however, that as the law does not specify "trees" as an obstruction law does not specify "trees" as an obstruction to King street, and furthermore provides punishment for any person who shall break or pull down "any tree or trees " on any of the streets." Some citizens have planted trees on King street and an irreconcilable conflict has grown up between trees and telegraphs. The trees grow up to the level of the telegraph wires and then the poles are made higher, but the trees still grow and require yet higher poles until now it is almost impossible to get poles which will carry the wires above the treetops, and the cost is very great. It is proposed to take the telegraph poles off king street, pursue a route near the edge of town and so save expense, but nothing has as yet been finally determined.

o'clock yesterday afternoon, had quite an exciting time. When the vehicle reached exciting time. When the vehicle reached the foot of the Capitol grounds the driver demanded more fares than he had received and, finding that his appeal for additional contributions fell on deaf earthead the determined to test the patience of the alleged evaders by coming to a full stop. The prolonged halt failed to make anyone disgorge, although it was intensely uncomfortable in the very much overcrowded box. Then the driver adopted more emphatic means and started to unhitch his horses. He did not complete the operation, however, but decided to go ahead without further delay. The passengers were unanimously of the opinion that the driver's judgment was at fault.
